Cure for Dysentery.

"While I was in Ashland, Kansas, a gentleman overheard me speaking of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes William Whitelaw, of Des Moines, Iowa. "He told me in detail of what it had done for his family, but more especially his daughter who was lying at the point of death with a violent attack of dysentery, and had been given up by the family physician. Some of his neighbors advised him to give Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, which he did, and fully believes that by doing so saved the life of his child. He stated that he had also used this remedy himself with equally gratifying results."

THE THEATRE

The Idlehour.
John Barnegeorn's evil influence on man was never better exemplified than in "The Idlehour," a thrilling, colorful drama, distributed by Goldwyn, which comes to the Idlehour theatre, Sunday, August 4.
A man time immemorial drink has been the ruin of thousands of individuals. So the role of "Gentleman Jim" Cabot gives many opportunities for intense realism. Cabot, a former lightweight pugilist of prominence, has never done a stroke of work since leaving the roped arena, until now he is cornered by an who know him a heavyweight leader.
Through his addiction to drink, his wife is forced into the vocation of a cabaret dancer in a dive in the slums. Because of ill-health and constant worrying over her husband, she soon falls into disfavor with her audience of ruffians and is discharged.
Roy Laidlaw, who plays "Gentleman Jim" Cabot, gives a remarkably forceful interpretation of the role.

Liberty Theatre
Bessie Love, who is the star of the Pathe play, "The Great Adventure," which will be at the Liberty theatre August 6, has the distinction of being not only one of the youngest of the screen stars, but of having reached the top of her profession in one short year. Unlike many of the favorites of the screen she did not come to the motion pictures from the stage.
In 1916 this young girl, with braids hanging down her back, went out to Hollywood determined to get an engagement before the camera. One of the directors was casting a picture in which there was a very small part requiring a young girl of her general type. He noticed Miss Love and thought that "she would do." Mindful of the old says that opportunity knocks but once and that he who would do big things must do the small things well, she put her best in that small part. The impression that she made upon the director by her earnestness and adaptability resulted in her being placed at his request upon the list of desirable extras. Then came a director looking for a good type to play a Swedish servant girl in a play in which John Emerson was to be the star. It was not a small part this time and he was most particular to choose a girl who was thoroughly competent. He saw Miss Love doing an extra part in a picture being staged by another director and decided that she was the person he wanted. The picture was the making of Miss Love.
"The Warrior" will be the offering at the Liberty theatre Wednesday, and is one of the finest of the late pictures.

To Improve Your Digestion
"For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried everything that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them did I find the right treatment. Since taking them my digestion is fine."—Mrs. Blanche Bowers, Indiana, Pa.
